

Compassionate Guides: Q

Q is to my way of thinking simply magnificent. He is a traveler of the lower world. He knows the byways and pathways of the psyche. His is wisdom personified. He wants to help people understand the mysteries and he will guide them by working with them in a therapeutic way.

You could just touch him and you would see a door opening.

He says, “People need to have more patience when attempting to solve their problem. They need to stand in one place both literally and figuratively and feel with all their senses what is going on around them, and feel in every area of their knowing how the outside enters the inside.”

The way he can work with people to help them navigate the darkness is to attune himself to their frequency and not match it, but produce in himself a frequency that will attract their energetic flow to the inner world that will be the place where they can learn what they need to learn.

He is truly extraordinary. He can actually help people heal, even physically, because of this attunement mechanism he does naturally, in response to people. And he’s not arrogant. He is pure healer.
